Bibliography

- Burley, Mikel. Contemplating Religious Forms of Life: Wittgenstein and D. Z. Phillips. Continuum International Publishing Group. 2012. (Fairly readable but challenging. Easier to understand Wittgenstein through this than reading Wittgenstein.)
- Dillard, Peter. Non-Metaphysical Theology after Heidegger. Palgrave Macmillan. 2016. (Challenging.)
- Hector, Kevin. Theology without Metaphysics: God, Language, and the Spirit of Recognition. Cambridge University Press. 2011. (A well-written philosophical and theological exploration of the subject. Not easily accessible without some background in the subject.)
- Lane, Dermot. The Experience of God: An Invitation to do Theology. Paulist Press. 2003. (A readable look into the issues of approaching theology through human experience.)
- Levinas, Emmanuel. Totality and Infinity: An Essay on Exteriority. Duquesne University Press. 1961. (Extremely challenging to read, but Levinas is a leading philosopher for non-metaphysical theology).
- Marion, Jean-Luc. God without Being. University of Chicago Press. 1991. (Very challenging to read from another central philosopher for the subject).
- Murchadha, Felix. A Phenomenology of Christian Life: Glory and Night. Indiana University Press. 2013. (Challenging to read but well written.)
- Phillips, D. Z. Faith after Foundationalism. Routledge. 1988. (Challenging to read but insightful.)
- Wilmore, Gayraud. Pragmatic Spirituality: The Christian Faith through an Africentric Lens. New York University Press. 2004. (Readable exploration of the pragmatic faith/theology of the Black church.)
- Wrathall, Mark, ed. Religion after Metaphysics. Cambridge University. 2003. (Short chapters by various writers, some easier than others to understand.)
